ON THE PLATFORM.

The following logical article from the Prescott Courier should be read carefully by every voter in Arizona:

"When a foreigner is admitted to citizenship in this country, he takes an oath of allegiance to this country. When a citizen runs for office on a party platform, he must abide by the declarations of that platform, or he becomes a traitor to the Judas Iscariot stripe. It is of no avail to talk otherwise, for these are the facts in the case. When a man joins a temperance society, he must quit strong drink while he is a member, or he becomes a perjurer and having no manly attributes save the shape of man. No matter how wicked a man may be, he can and does become a good Christian, and no matter how good a Christian he may have been, he can and does become the vilest of the vile. The silver man may turn traitor and become a gold bug through being too weak to resist the influences of British and Wall street gold and position, and the gold-bug may see the error of his wicked way, repent, and honor himself by assuming the penitent form and taking his stand on a free silver platform, and by doing so pledge himself to support the tenets of that platform. The fair-minded and liberal-viewed men, of the west especially, dwell not so much on 'has been' as upon the man as he is today; and even if he has them, if they see that man charging down upon them in the ranks of a common enemy, they must be prepared to receive that man as an enemy—they cannot do otherwise. On the other hand, if a man who has ever been arrayed against them, walks upon their platform, accepts their doctrine as his doctrine, and fights shoulder to shoulder with them against the common foe, no matter how bitter an enemy he may have been, he is admitted to fellowship with them. It is both human and divine that this should be the case. Then tell us not of the 'has been,' for the man who fights with us today is our beloved and trusted fellow-soldier today, and the man who leads the forces of the enemy against us today is arrayed against us, and no 'has been' talk will convince us otherwise. This is a principle which has prevailed since time commenced and one which will endure forever; and, in this age of the world, no man can be convinced that his friend, with sword in hand, marches down upon him in the bristling ranks of the enemy."

Bisbee was in never a better condition for incorporation. It's money to incorporate now. It's business. It's right. It's respect. It's decency. The town is growing continually and rapidly. In its present condition what motive is it to a property holder to improve, to beautify. The One has talked and preached incorporation because it believes and knows it to be right; because every intelligent man knows it is right; because capital will not invest until the town is incorporated; because there can be no semblance towards municipal decency until incorporation is made. Will you progress.

This is a political campaign and not a war against Spain, as our republican friends would have you believe. The great national issue is the free coinage of silver; the local issue are too familiar to taxpayers to need mention—as every taxless foot reminds us of the illegal local legalizing and other nefarious schemes.

SECRETARY ALGER says that the blame for the sin lies in the army "rests first on the colonels and then on other officers up to the highest generals." Most people go a step further, but the secretary of war seems to know where to stop.

HON. J. F. WILSON.

Brief Sketch of the Democratic Nominee to Congress.

Hon. J. F. Wilson, the democratic nominee for delegate to congress, was born in Pulaski, Giles county, Tennessee, May 7, 1846. He attended Rhema college, Alabama, and was finishing his junior year when the war broke out. His books were cast aside and he donned a suit of gray, shouldered a musket and became a member of Company B, First Battalion, volunteer Infantry, after which he was on staff duty under General Hindman until December, 1863. In the summer of 1864 he had charge of a regiment on the northern frontier of Alabama and held the rank of lieutenant-colonel. After the fall of Montgomery, and after the surrender of Johnson, the regiment disbanded.

Col. Wilson was wounded six different times during the service. He was in every engagement in which his command participated and saw much service in Kentucky.

After the disbandment of his command, Col. Wilson started west June 1st, 1865, and spent a short time in Mexico, after which he went to Texas but later, located at Yellville, Arkansas where he was engaged in teaching in the public schools up to 1872. In the meantime he had begun the study of law, and in March, 1872 was admitted to the bar and at once entered upon the practice of the profession.

Col. Wilson was, in 1876, elected to the legislature of Arkansas, and as a member of that body he served for the years 1877-78 as the representative of Monia county in that state.

Col. Wilson remained in Yellville until 1865, having the previous year been elected to the office of prosecuting attorney of the Fourth Judicial District of Arkansas, a position he filled with marked ability until 1887. During these two years he resided in Harrison, Ark. He then took up his residence at Prescott, Arizona, twelve years ago, since which time his career has been closely identified with the push and progress of the territory. As a lawyer, Col. Wilson is in the front rank, having always been true to his clients and commanded the highest respect of the court, the bar and the public.

In 1891 Col. Wilson was a member of the constitutional convention which drafted the constitution for the admission of Arizona as a state. From 1893 to 1895 he served as probate judge of Yavapai county, having been appointed to fill a vacancy, during which time his decisions and rulings evinced great ability and admirable impartiality.

Under Governor Franklin's administration he was attorney general and enjoyed the full and entire confidence of that incorruptible executive. His loyalty to the people of Arizona is shown by his determined opposition to ring rule and corrupt measures of every kind and description. When the confirmation of Governor McCord was under consideration by the senate of the United States, he left his private business and before the committee on territories, in the name of the good people of Arizona, protested against his confirmation. At the time he was censured by the opposition press, but the McCord-Murphy administration has done the things which Col. Wilson declared they would do—have added one-third of a million of dollars to the debt of the territory and given us a government permeated through and through with rottenness and corruption—his course at that time has been thoroughly vindicated. There is no stain upon his shield. He stands for honest government. The rights of the people against hoodling rings and corrupt combines. Courageous, bold and determined, he is an ideal candidate for delegate to congress. A logical and forcible speaker, he would command the attention of any deliberative body. Industrious, energetic and of undoubted integrity, the people of Arizona will have in him a champion that knows neither fear nor failure.

WHAT IT MEANS.

Arizona republicans are striving to conceal the real issue of this campaign. By their ambiguous declaration on the silver question they hope to turn attention from that subject, and cause the people to forget that they stand on the same plank as Hanna and his eastern votaries.

It is more important, however, to elect a delegate from Arizona on a straight-out silver platform this year than ever before. Arizona's every interest is dependent upon the mining industry for advancement, and no uncertain stand can be taken upon that question. It would be a calamity to the cause of silver to send an administration republican to the national congress at this time. It would be a hard blow at bimetalism to elect A. O. Brodie on a platform which ratifies all the policies of McKinley's administration and endorses Murphy's course.

The duplicity and insincerity that stains the planks of the republican platform should not be overlooked. It is an endorsement of Algerism, Murphyism and incompetency. It approves the appointment of incompetent quartermasters, whose neglect or indifference, has resulted in the death of thousands of American soldiers. It sanctions the attempt of the administration to establish an aristocracy of birth and political standing in the American army, whose test has been patriotism and ability heretofore. It cheers the subtle schemer, who may, under guise of law, impose additional burdens on the people; its voice is for the payment of the Yavapai county railway bonds, knowing that not even a streak of rust remains of the roadbed. It "points with pride" to the man who would fasten upon Pima county and the territory an indebtedness similar to the Yavapai fraud. It stands for the deplorable change of school books. With the stealthy trend of a burglar, it invades the inner temple of populism and steals the initiative and referendum; it goes to the bloody field of battle in goulsh glee and seeks to appropriate the halo of glory surrounding the volunteer, and with unblushing affrontery it asks you to support it.—Gazette.

The announcement of S. C. Perrin appears in this issue of THE ONE as an aspirant for the nomination to the responsible position of probate judge of Cochise county. Judge Perrin is qualified to fill the position to which he aspires, having had years of experience as a justice of the peace in this county, he is conversant with the law, and would make a good probate judge. He is well known throughout the county, and if he receives the nomination his election will only be a question of majority.

From the latest advices received from the east, through the New York Tribune, a staunch republican paper, in all probability the republicans will lose control of the house of representatives. With the senate democratic and the house the same, Arizona stands a good chance of being admitted to statehood, but a man in sympathy with both houses is the one that should be sent to push her claims, and that man is Col. Wilson.

INITIATIVE and referendum are as much out of place in republican platform as holy water in the devil's domain.

DEMOCRATS are heartily in favor of statehood. Last winter the republican officials in Arizona opposed both statehood and home rule.

From good authority we learn that work will be commenced on the Nacopari road before the first of the year.

Democratic County Convention.

At a meeting of the Democratic Central Committee of Cochise county, held at the court house in Tombstone, on August 25, 1898, it was ordered that the Democratic county convention be called to meet in the opera house in the town of Bisbee on the 8th day of October, 1898, at 10 o'clock a. m.

The convention is called for the purpose of nominating candidates for the various legislative and county offices to be voted for at the November election of this year; for selecting a county central committee, and for transacting such other business as may properly come before said convention. Order of business to be decided by the convention.

The following is the number of delegates apportioned to each precinct, based on the vote of 1896:

Bisbee	20
Tombstone	10

COPPER - IS - KING

The South Bisbee
Copper Mining and Townsite
Improvement Co.
CAPITAL STOCK - $5,000,000

Non-Assessable and Carrying no Personal Liability to the Holder

The group of mines recently purchased by the "South Bisbee Copper Mining and Townsite Improvement Company" are situated on the southwest side of this copper basin, and extend from the top of the mountains on the west to the center of the basin on the east. Few people have any conception of the ore bodies or the unlimited amount of mineral that lies in this basin. The Copper Queen Company has been operating here for eighteen years and are down only 500 feet, simply because they found sufficient ore between there and the surface, to keep them in constant operation. It is said by parties who have the opportunity to know, that they now have sufficient ore in sight to maintain their present output for fifteen years without having to sink another foot; and what is true of their property must be true of this company's property when developed.

The stock books of the above company are now open for subscription and a limited number of shares are offered at TWENTY CENTS per share. No applications for less than 100 shares will be accepted. Applications for stock or copy of the prospectus to be made to

PETER JOHNSON,
Fiscal Agent, Bisbee, Arizona.
Every dollar of the proceeds from the sale of shares of stock and from the sale of the company's town lots and blocks, which we estimate will be a large sum, will be invested in sinking shafts, development work, the erection of hoisting works and modern smelters, and all necessary improvements, to make this enterprise successful in every way. We can deliver our coke supplies directly from the railroad cars to the smelters; and can also deliver our bullion directly to the cars. We have no salaried officers—hence every dollar will be used for developing the property of this company. The books of the company will be open for inspection at all times, and at the annual meeting of the company, full and exhaustive reports will be submitted to the stockholders, for their approval.

This corporation is composed of practical business men. Upon request of interested parties, we will, with pleasure, submit evidence to show that our claims are modest, in view of the remarkable indications and possibilities of this property.

PETER JOHNSON,
T. E. ROWAN, Treasurer.
Office No. 4 Bryson Block, Los Angeles, California.
